LOVETT'S SALOON

THE ONLY PLACE WHERE YOU CAN Celebrated Cold Tea. Not Versed in the Art of Making Tom and Jerry

The Daily Standard. Friday, April 21, 1871. We have, in all probability, the best man-growing country on the North Pacific. We have a territory of 220,000 square miles, in which any plant belonging to the temperate zone except the semi-tropical, will come to perfection. No country in North America, not even No country in North America, not even the interminable prairies of the "Great West," autopass British Columbia in the abundance of rich nutritious grasses that produce the finest flavored beef in the world. Our wheat-growing lands are so extensive, that as soon as cheap transportation shall have been provided between the country behind the Cascades and the asshound, our wheat will connecte. 2 BOTTLES FOR SO CENTS: 1 and the seaboard, our wheat will compete with California and Oregon in the mark-ets of Great Britain. Our gold mines are to-day the best on the Pacific, and after they have been worked by genera-tions to come, will be pronounced inex-haustible. Our coal fields, the best and most extensive known to exist west of the Rocky Mountains, only await an in-crease of population on the Pacific slope to atilize them to the fullest extent. Our forests are filled with economic woods, and our rivers and shores are alive with sh, either edible or useful in the arts. Water-power is everywhere to be had. No part of our territory is over five hun-dred miles from the Ocean. Our climate is the most salubrious in the world, -acclimatizing being unnecessary to the Northern American or the European-Life and property are secure. Such is a brief but true description of our country; and yet our population is small,-too few in number to ever accomplish much in developing it. The natural increase is too slow a way to populate a new State. It might have answered in the days of Nosh; but it is wholly unsuitable in su age of railways, steamboats, electric telegraphs, and friction matches, -in a century in which more land has been peopled by immigration than was known to Greece or Rome at any time between their rise and fall, If the pioneers of British Columbia ever enjoy the full fruits of their daring, toil, and enterprise, in selecting this country as their homestead, it can only be by landing grown-up men and women here by thousands,—by utilizing the waves of population that are rolling from Europe and North-East America towards our shores. The wave first breaks in California, but its spray only touches Oregon, whilet its sound alone is noted here. The Pacific Railway is a wonderful im-Pacific, too, will double the capacity of our neighbors to populate their Pacific States and Territories, and, with our own railway opened to Montreal, will give Paget Sound and the Colf of Contract of the gis the pre-eminence in the means of getting population over California. Our country is certain to be densely d: but we don't wish to wait too Something is required to be done be. As soon as the new Government shall have been inaugurated, means should be adopted to insure immigration. Heretofore, our finances have been so managed that no money was left for immigration True, a pittance was doled out; but without substantial result. With Confederation, however, we shall have the ald of the Dominion; and with our new local rulers dependent on the people, we may naturally hope that the subject of immigration will remain in abeyance THEATRE ROYAL union will last for years and become strong and powerful, or is merely the forerunner of independence, is a question. Certain it is that a large party in Canada look for a severance from Great Britain at no distant day—and look upon the present movement as a step in that direction. Canadian politicians generally are not so strongly imbued with feelings of patriotism or filial affection as to drift seaward, when tacking will put them is port. Be that matter as it may, our neighbors across the line have reason to be thankful for the boon of responsible government already secured by the act of confederation. A more despicable position cannot well be imagined than for an intelligent people—such as the British Columbians are generally—to have laws for their government dictated and enforced by officials sent from another country—officials aristocratic in feeling, and who know little and, care less about the local wants and requirements of the merchants, manufacturer, and agriculturists of these

Ever since the City of Victoria has had a name, her trade and commerce has been hampered by unwise legislation; and, to-day, the empty stores and tenantless houses of this, the prettiest city on the coust, points in monumental mockery to the cause-ruinous enactments emanating from imbecile creatures of English lebbyism. To say that the mer-chants and business men of Victoria lack energy, and that the present duliness of trade generally is owing to their inertness, would be doing injustice to them. On every hand indications of energy are to be been. Massive brick and stone buildings, fine residences, hotels, churches, theatre, library rooms, water-works, steam fire-engines-everything, in short, to be found in any first class city, there—hence lethargy cannot be charged to them. The city has a fine location, also.

The surroundings are beautiful. A view from Beacon Hill equals that from any point on the coast. Look to the west, and the Strate of Fuca, with its numerous islands, greet you. Look to the east, and magnificent residences, including the Government House, the French Hospital, &c., &c., all quietly nestled in a forest of fine, old trees.
